

Facts about real creations and

LEGO MODELS!

ROHAN RALI

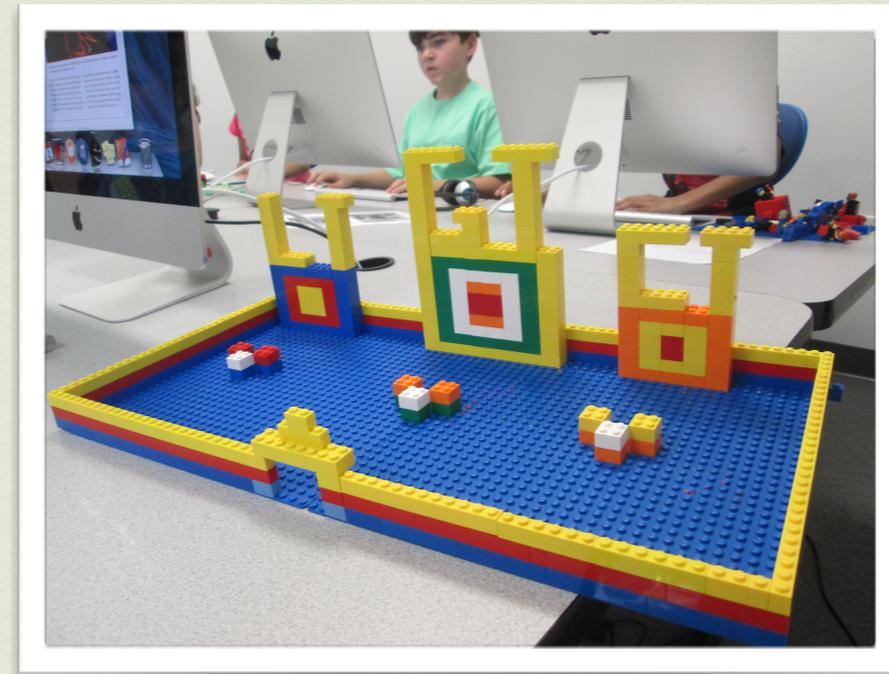

• Dedication •

Dedication to myself for doing everything, and my parents for teaching me.

• Copyright •

© To Myself for doing everything

WELCOME TO ARCHERY!

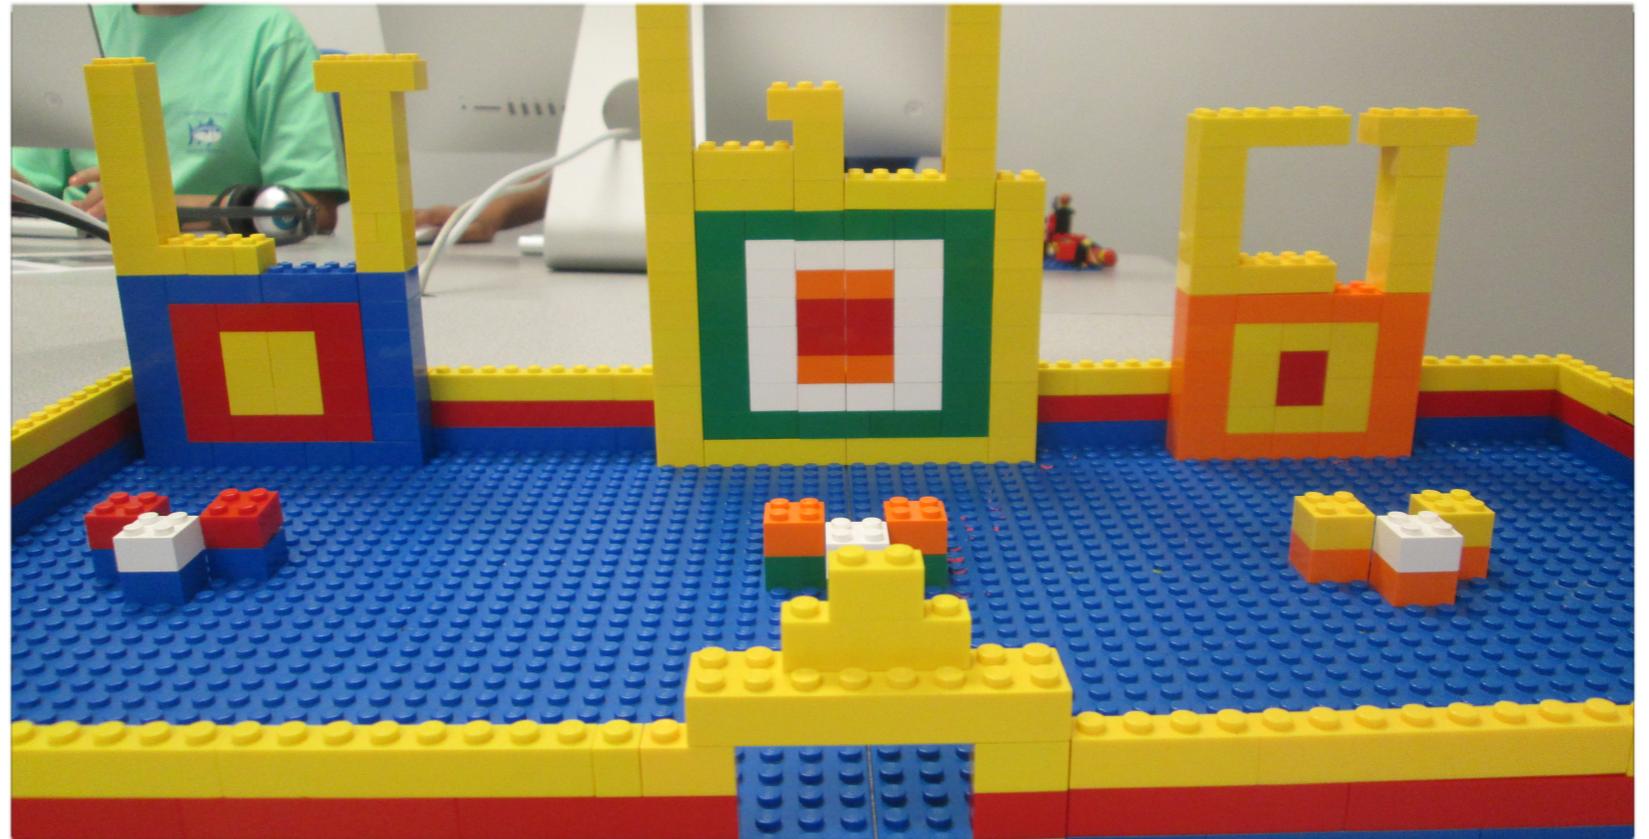

Welcome to Archery! In Archery, people use Bows, which are used to fire arrows. Greek myths are involved in Archery, long distance hunting involves archery.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!

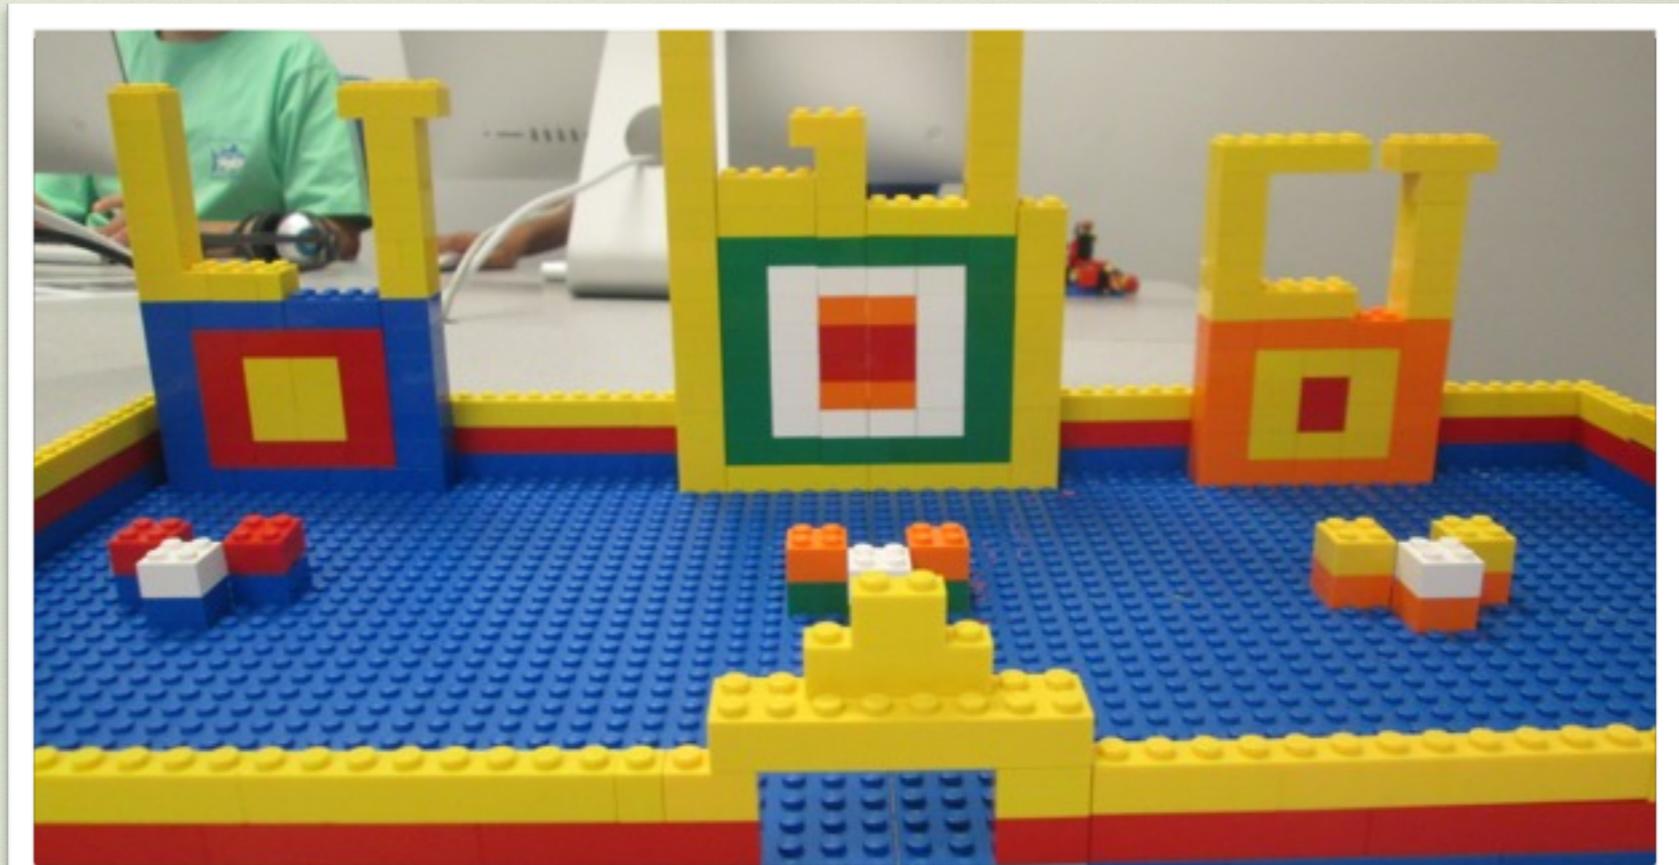

Obviously, people have to practice almost anything to be good at it, and Archery is one of them. To practice Archery, people use targets, like these, targets shown above, and try to shoot them from a certain distance, like in these targets, they shoot from these small pods. People try to shoot the middle of the target which is usually red. The middle of the target is called the bull`s eye.

HOW TO PLAY ARCHERY

Again, you use a Bow And Arrow to play. The bow looks like the outline of a semi-circle, with a string along the straight side. There is a slot where you insert arrows. You slide the arrow through the slot, and pull back. Then aim slightly above the target, because the Bow And Arrow has a slight arch, and FIRE! The arrow will fly off the Bow, and land somewhere. Usually, people carry sacks with arrows in them, so if they miss, they can try over, and over. In competitions, people see who can fire closest to bull`s eye, who can shoot the farthest, and more competitive objectives!

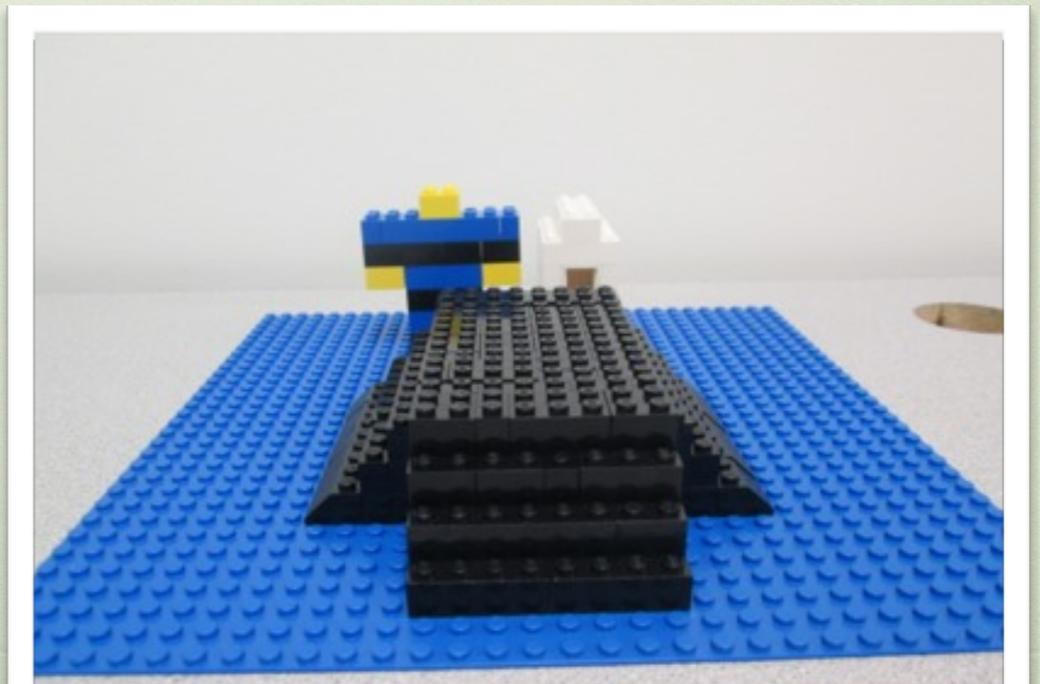

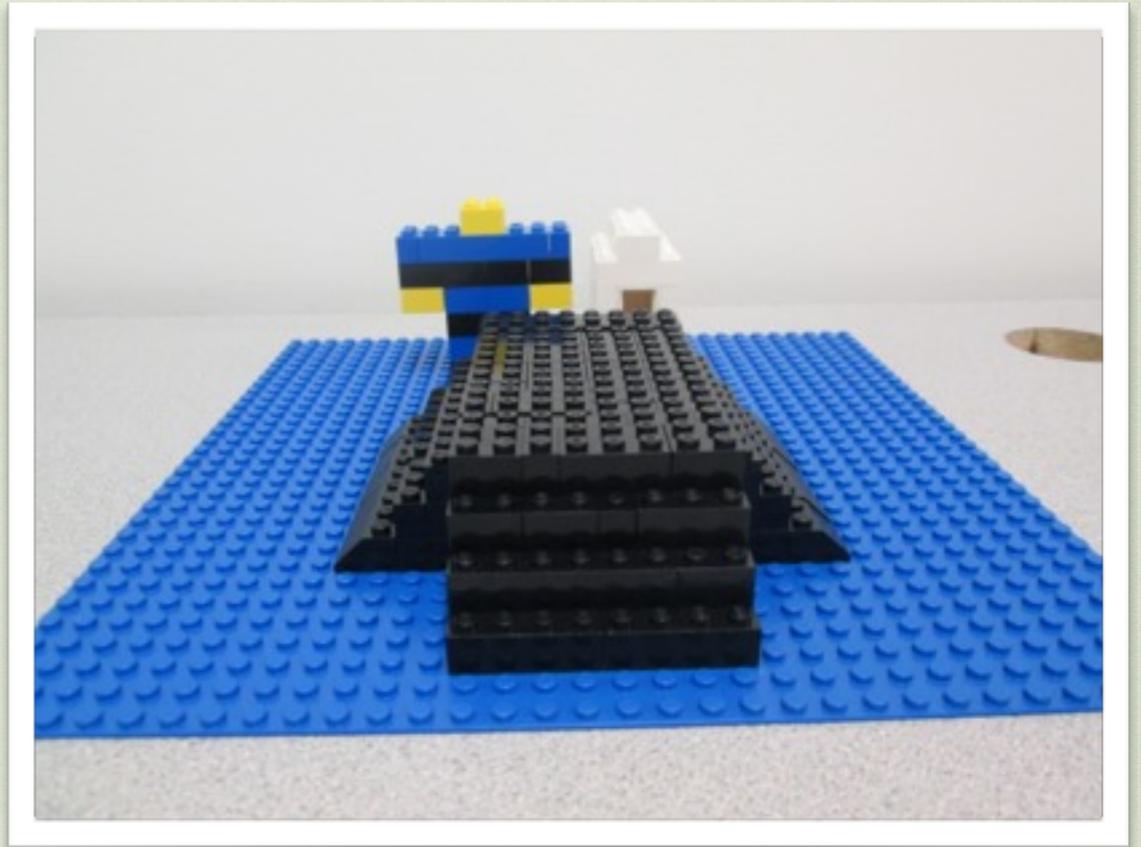

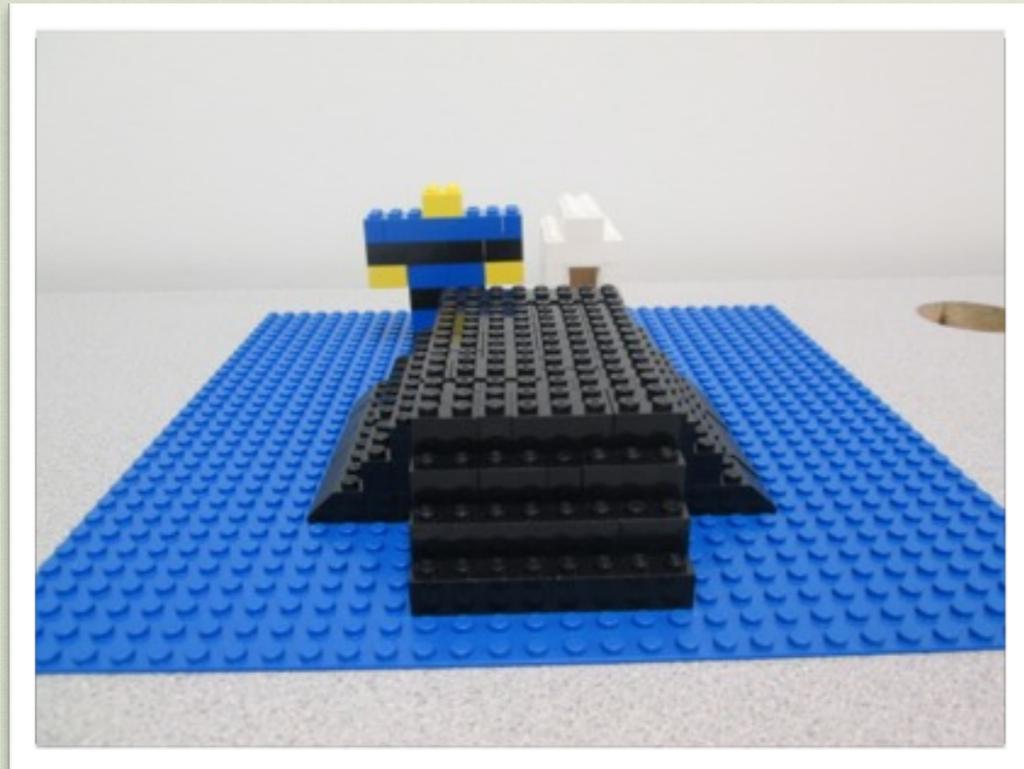

ARCHERYMPICS?

Archery is often played in the olympics every 4 years, along with all the other events and sports. Like every other Event, you can win a bronze, silver, or gold medals. Which basically means 3rd, 2nd, or 1st.

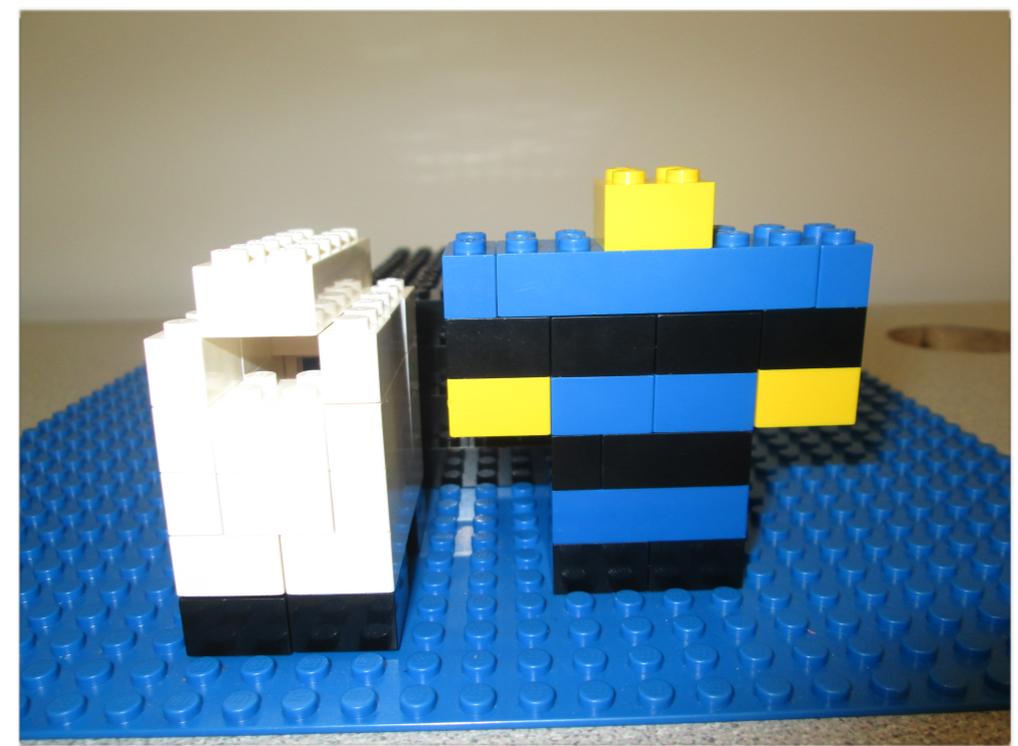

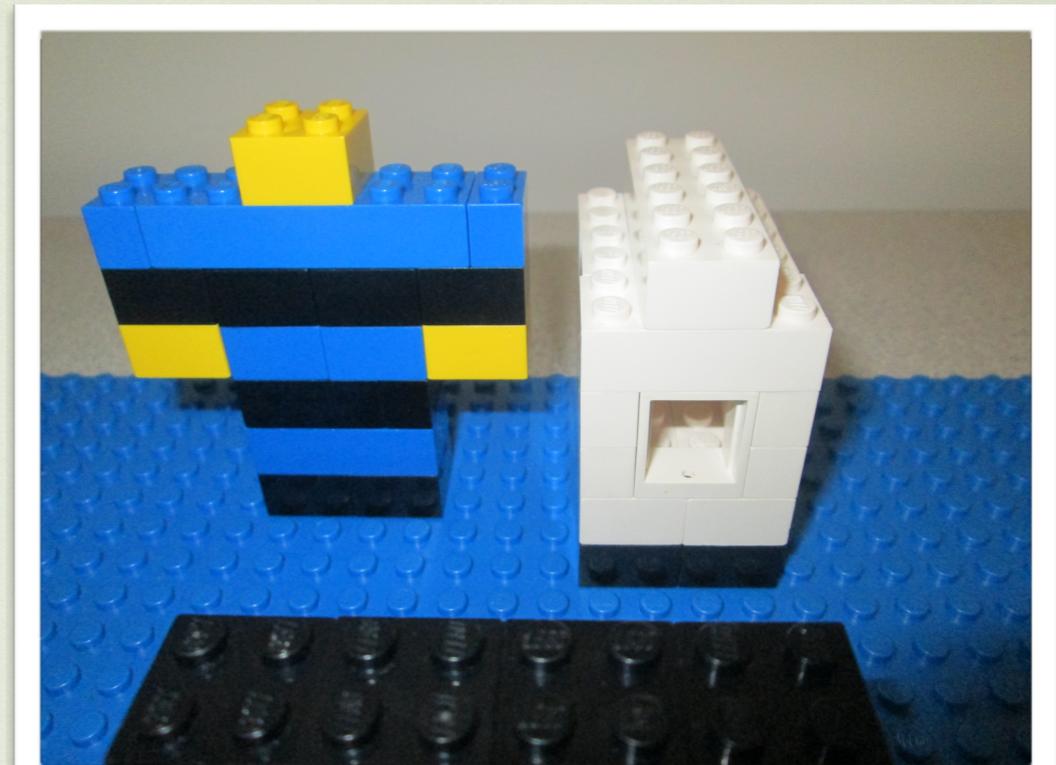

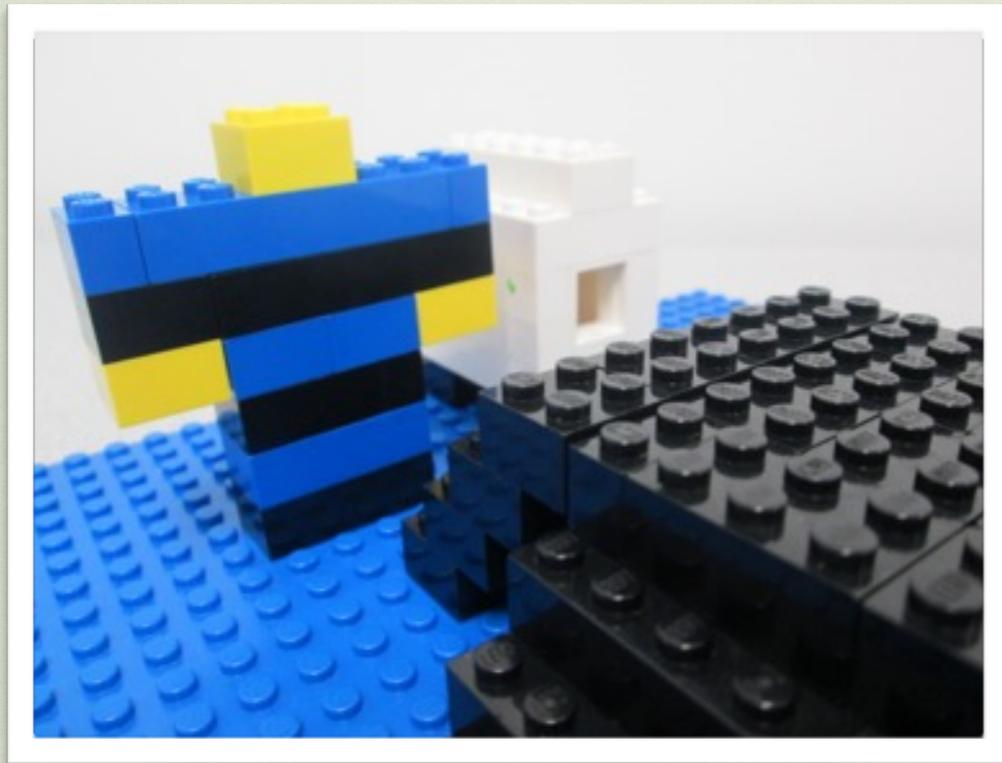

BRIDGE WORLD!

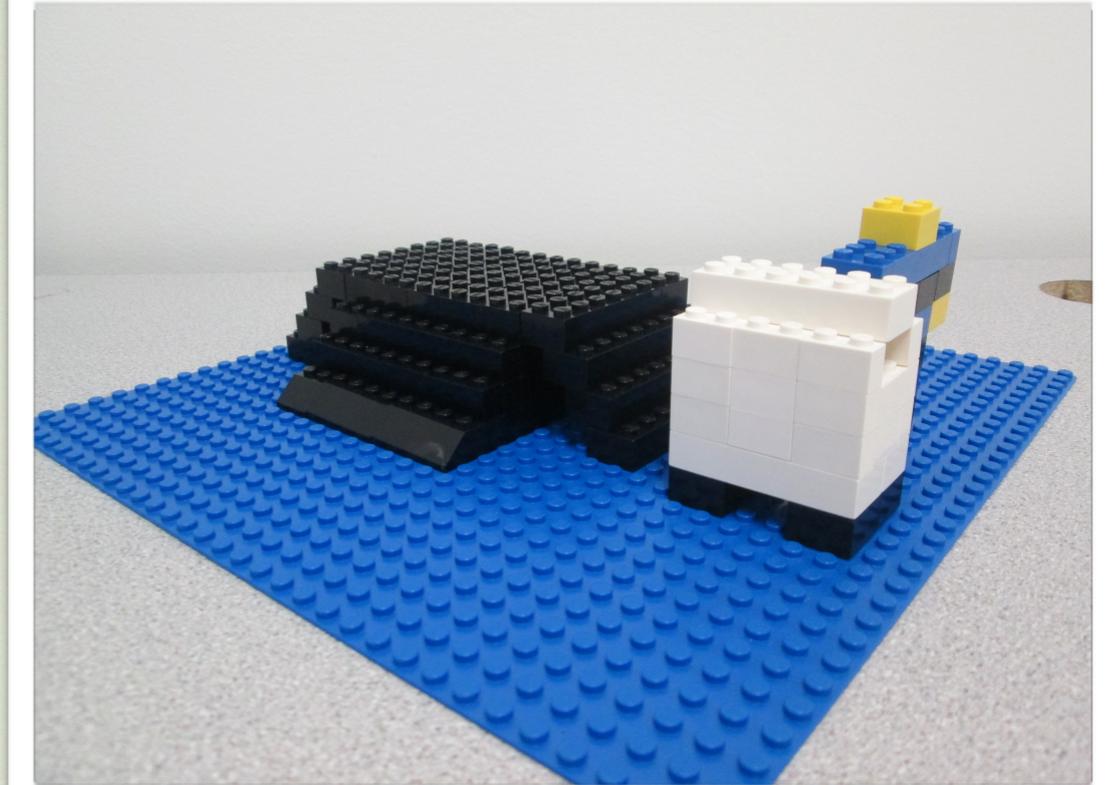

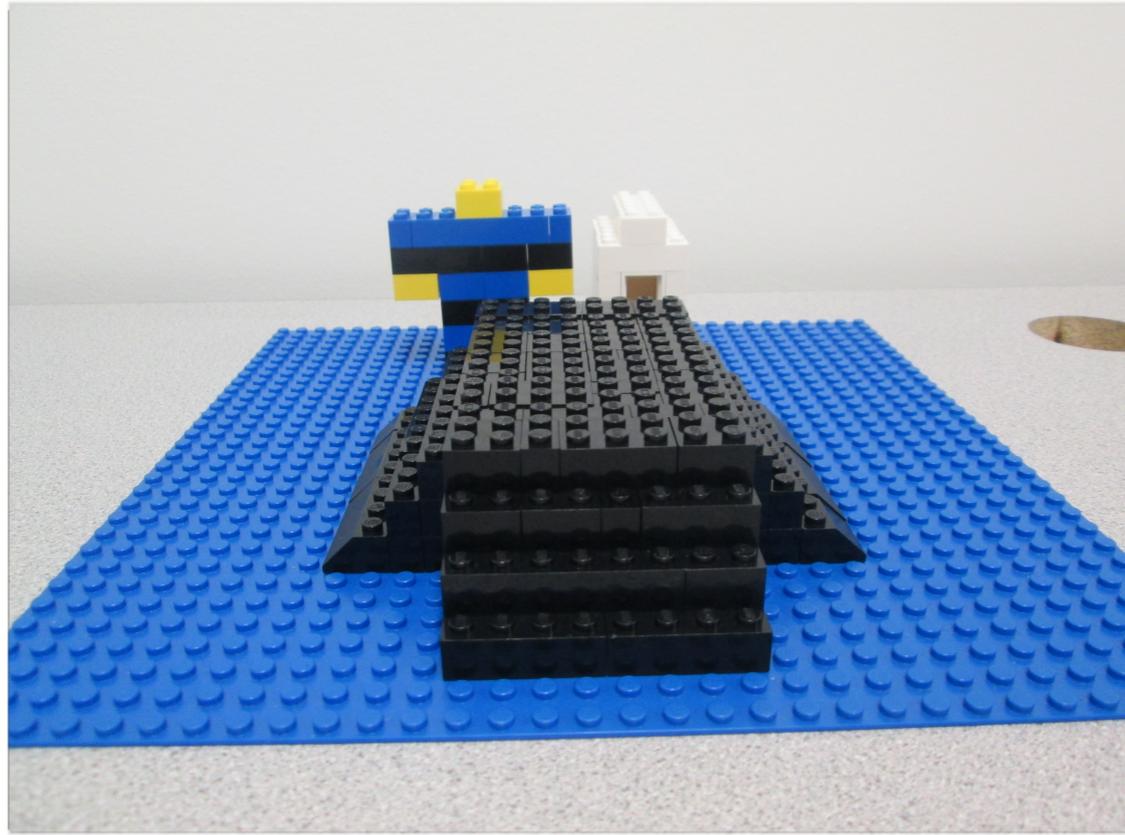

Bridges have been used to transport people and cars for several hundred years. People used to use bridges for different things, such as crossing bodies of water, and even shopping! People used to put small shops on bridges, before bigger shops, and cars were invented. People also use bridges as symbols. A long time ago, people made bridges out of rocks.

BRIDGES: PAST AND PRESENT!

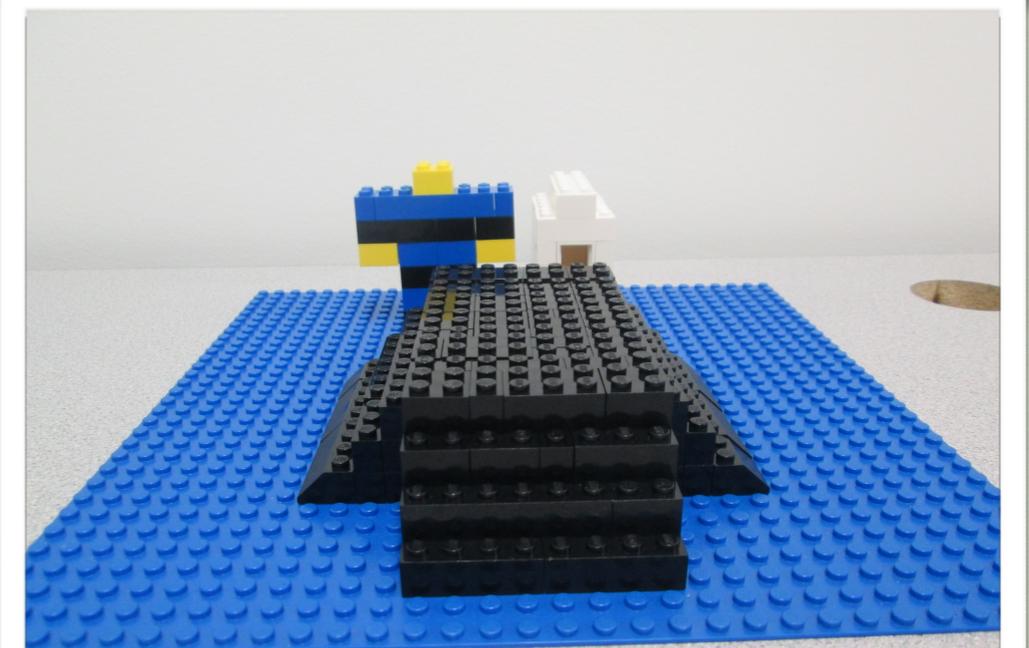

Modern bridges are much different from bridges a long time ago. But there are also many similarities. Bridges from a long time ago were made of logs, rocks, and other poor materials. Modern bridges are made of steel, iron, metals, and stronger, sturdier materials. Old bridges had people walking on them, and were not as long as the big ones that can be made today. On the other hand, modern bridges, have cars on them. Old bridges were small, and weaker. Modern bridges much are stronger and sturdier.

DANGERS OF BRIDGES!

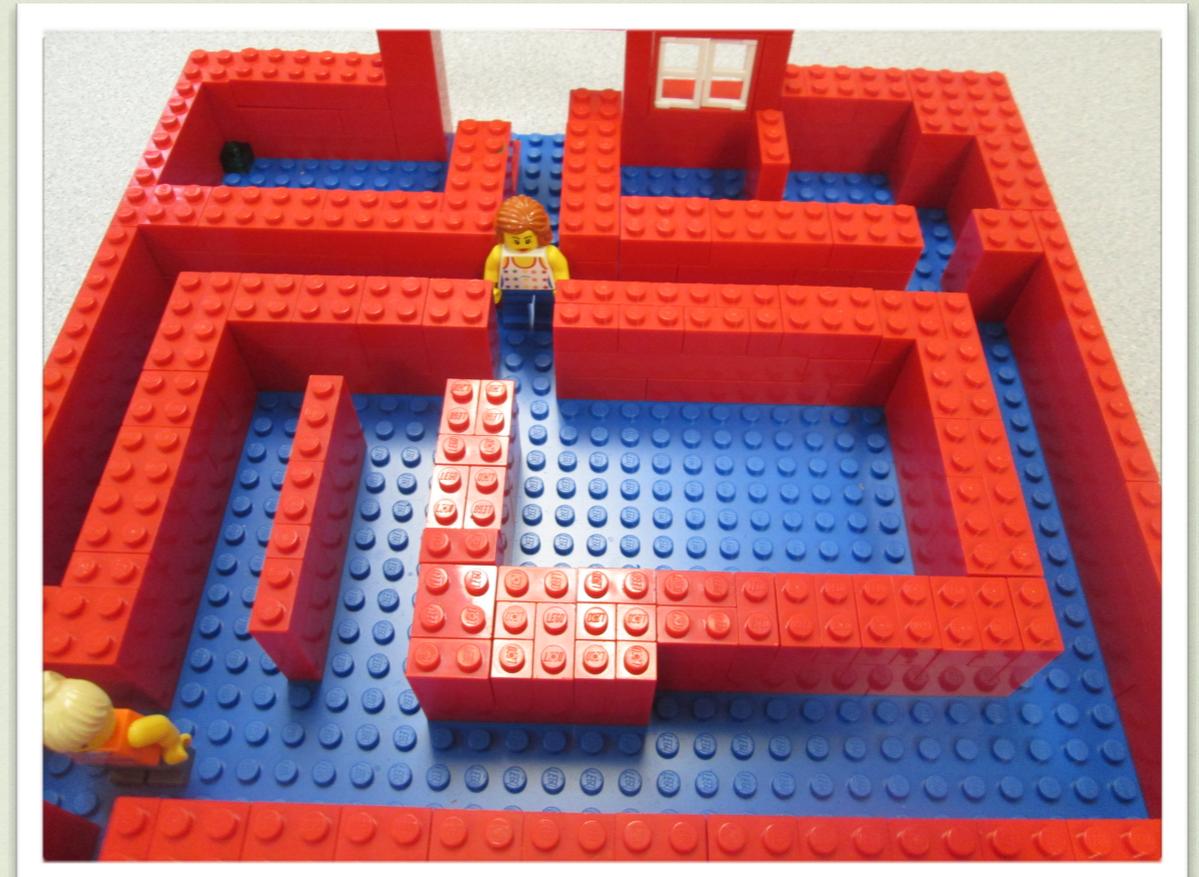

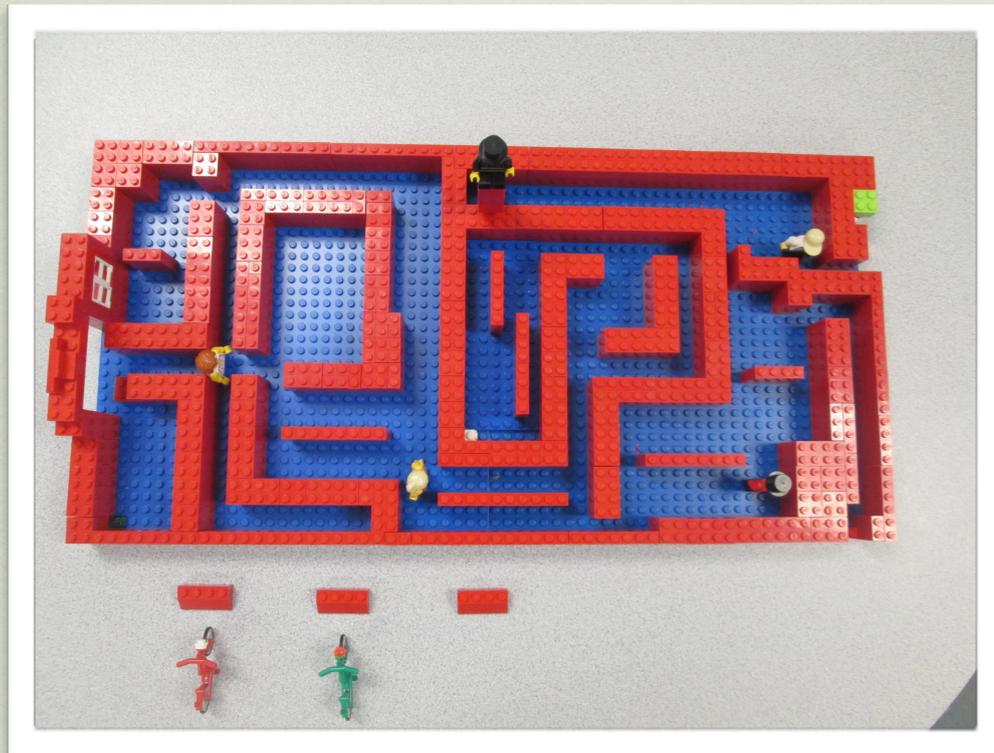

Shake Shake, BOOM! Bridges may seem as if they are strong, and peaceful, but they don't withstand everything! If you are driving on a bridge, the wind is blowing both vertical, and diagonal, and the bridge is shaking hard, you are in danger! You must get off the bridge as soon as possible. The bridge will probably collapse, or might sling cars off because of the shaking. So, even if a bridge is strong, you must be prepared if it is collapsing.

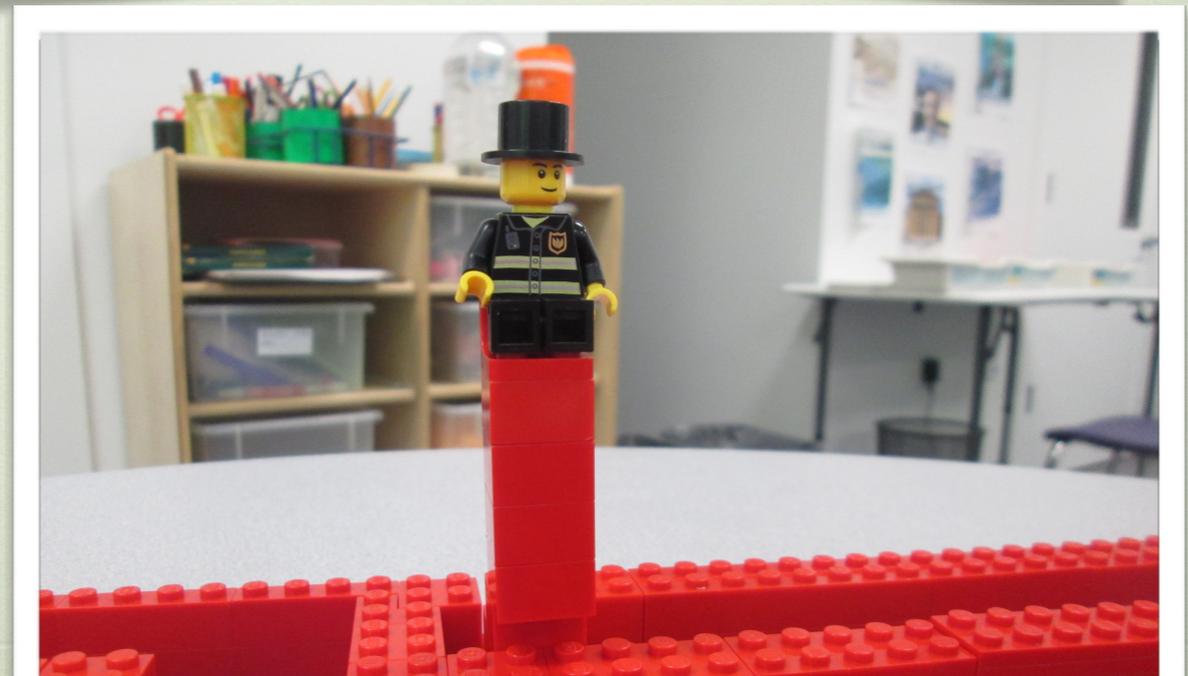

• CHAPTER 8 •

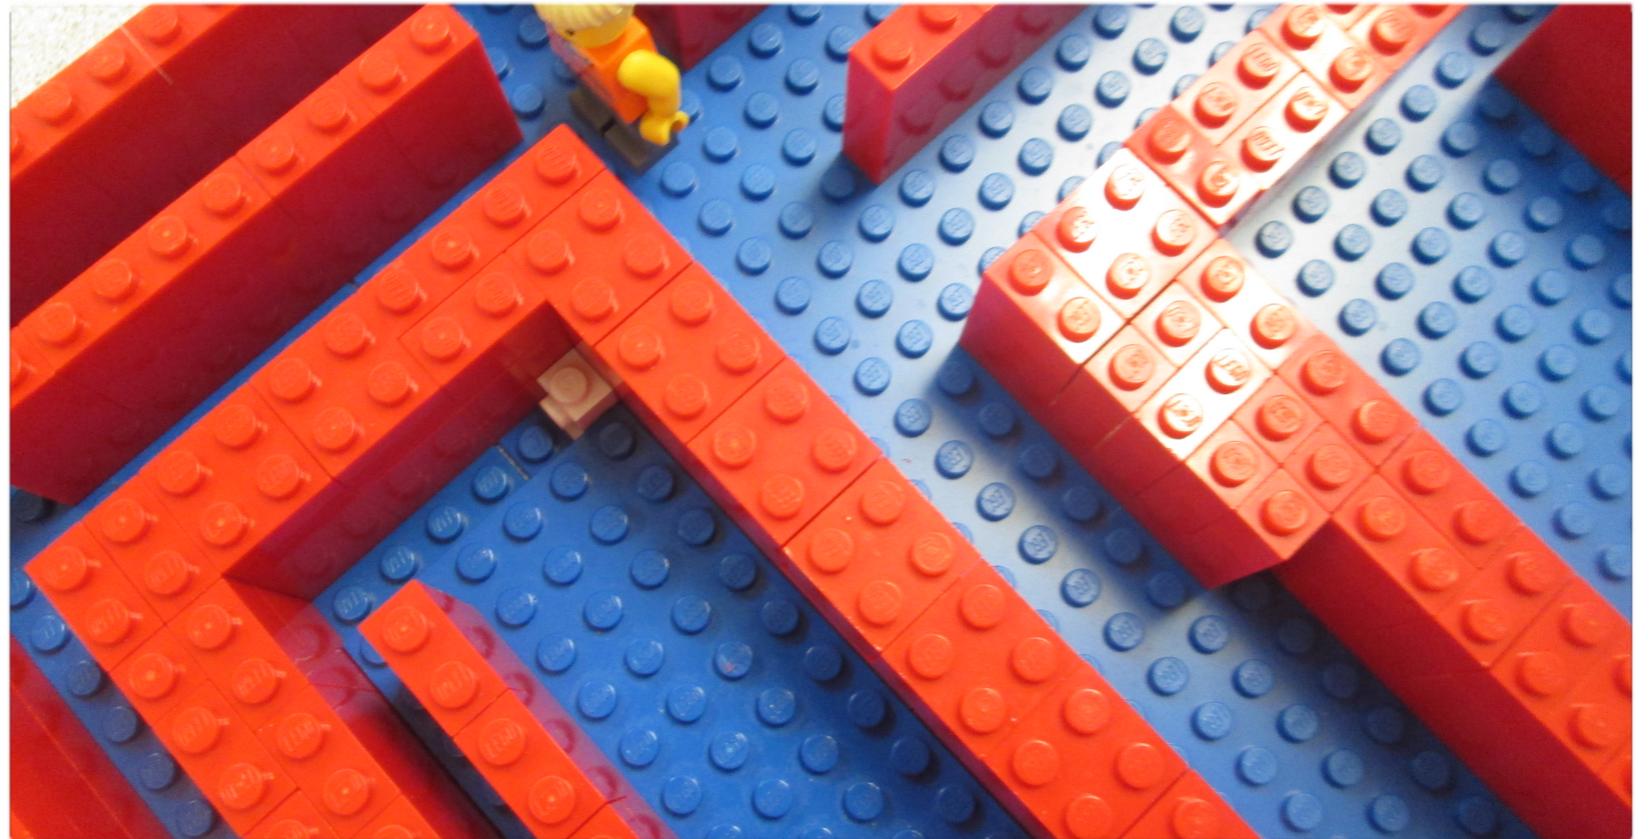

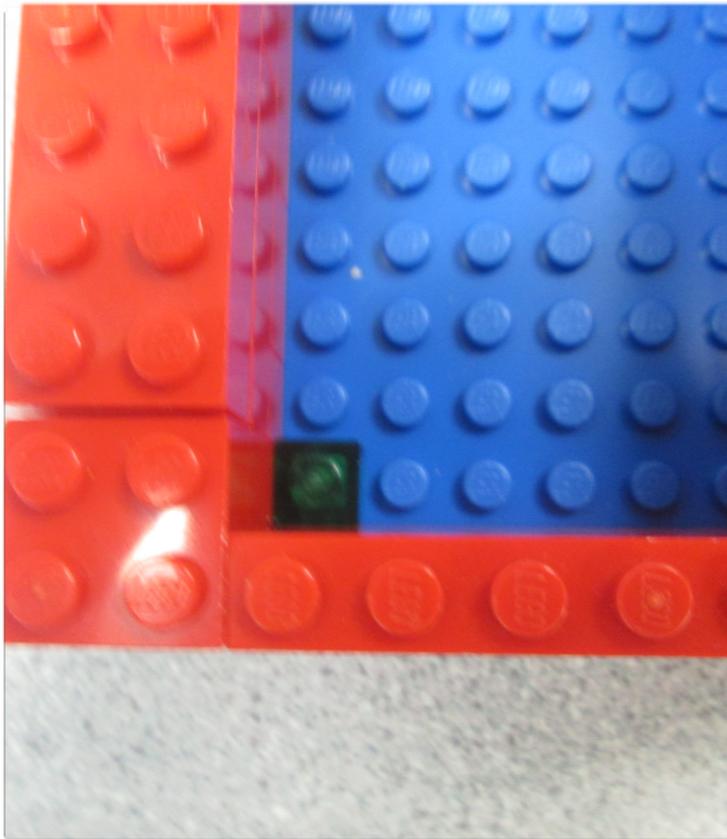

MAZES

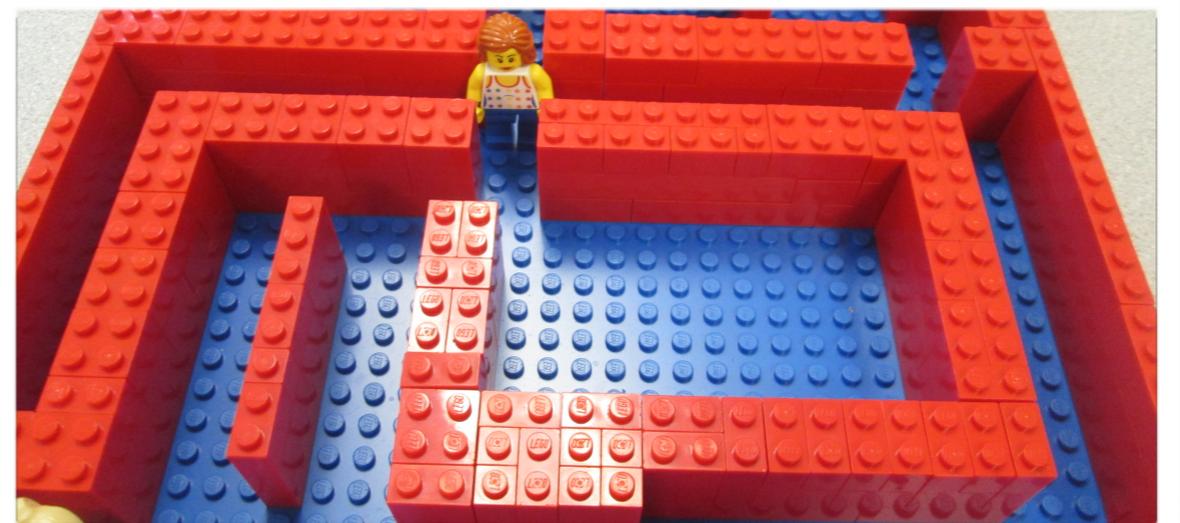

Mazes are a type of recreation all over the world. There are corn mazes, stone mazes, treasure mazes, and many more. Usually, there is a person watching over the maze, to make sure people don't get hurt, or lost in the maze. That person's job is a lot like a lifeguard's job. People are often given maps, that show the maze, but don't point the way out.

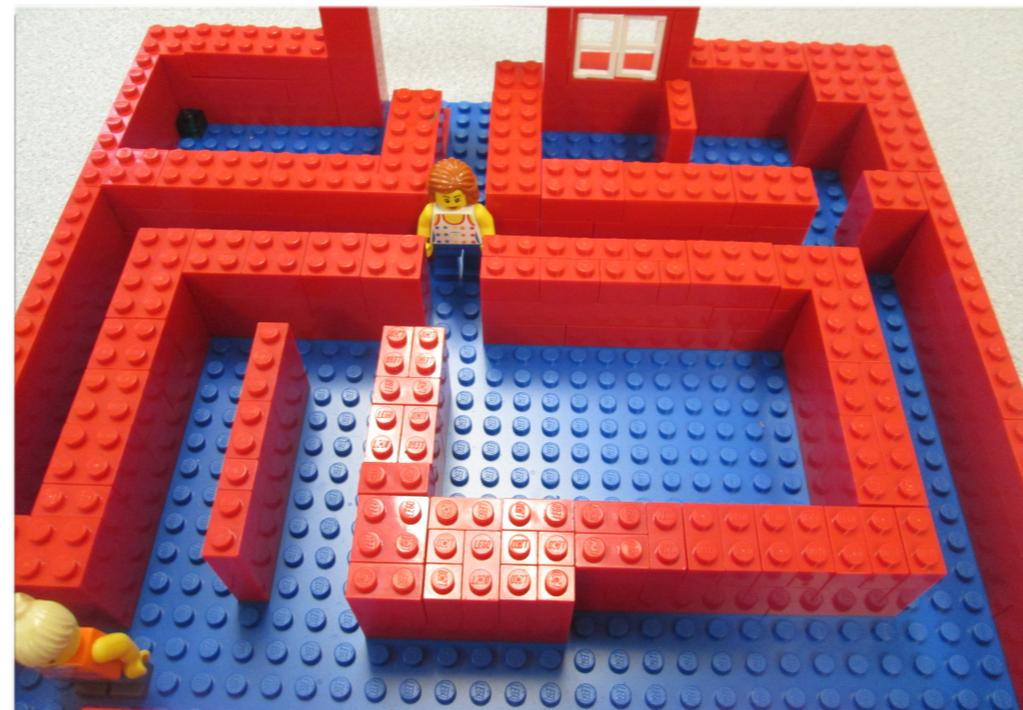

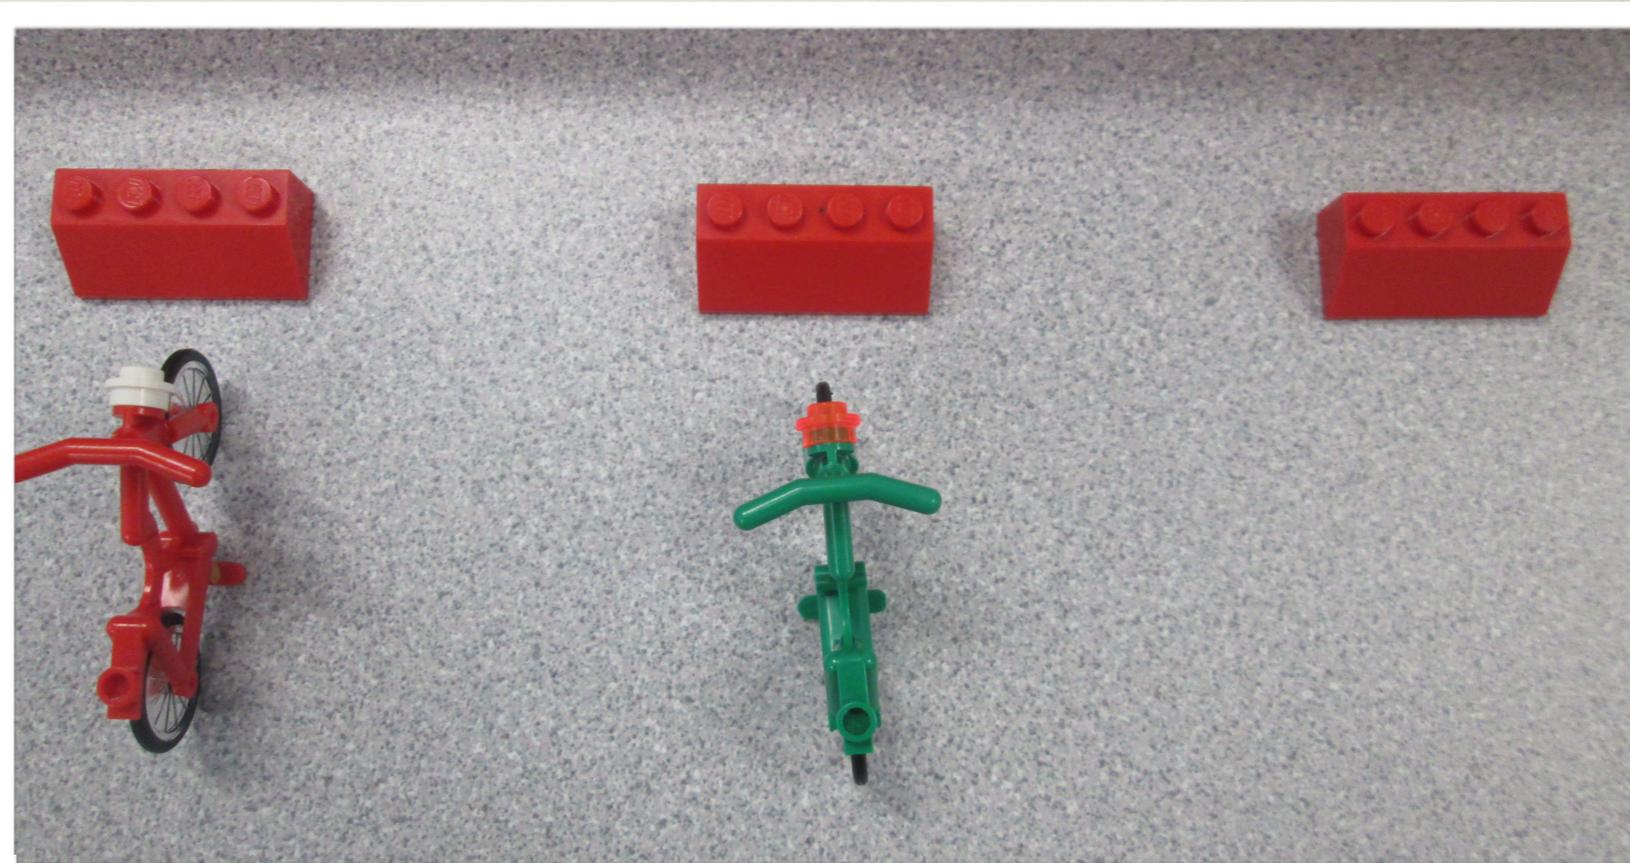

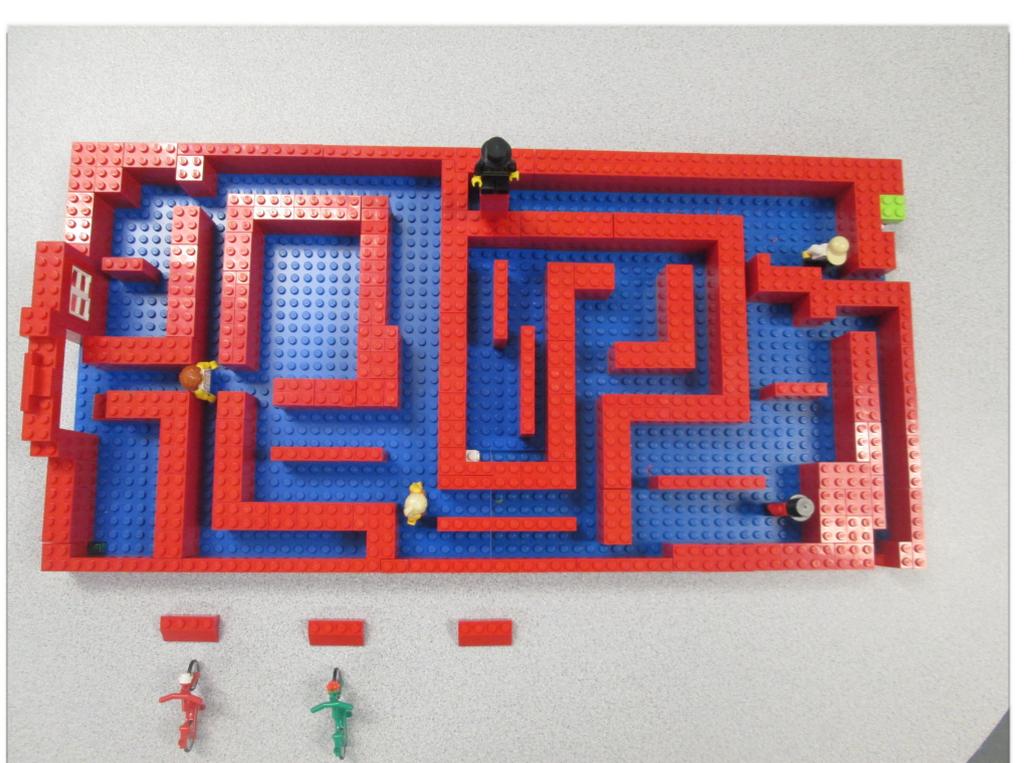

TREASURE!!!

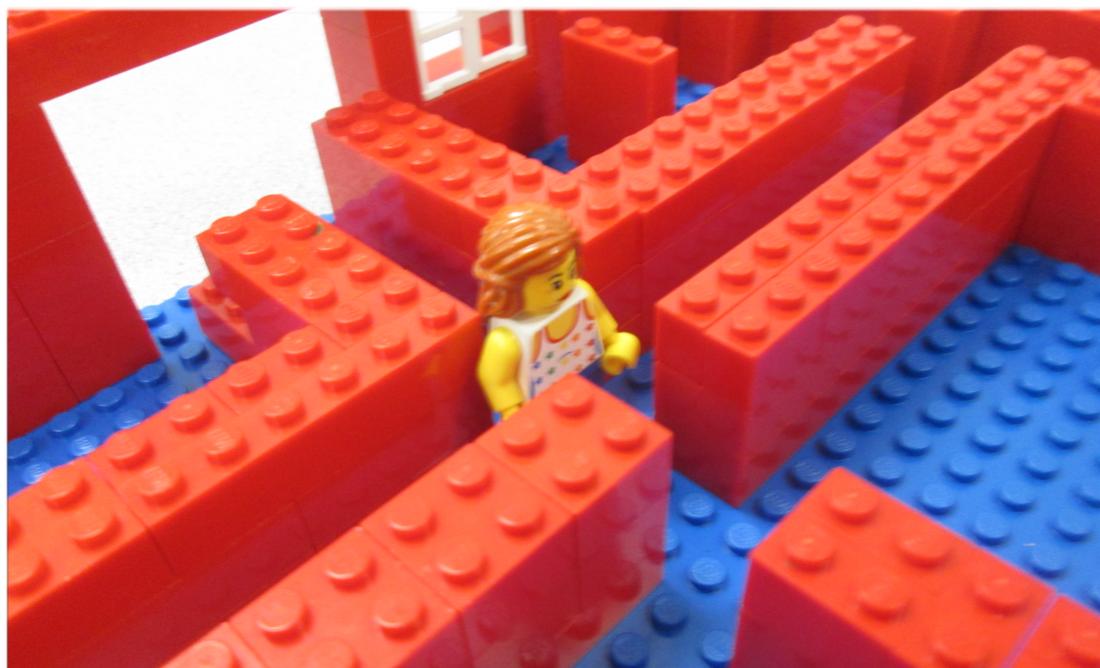

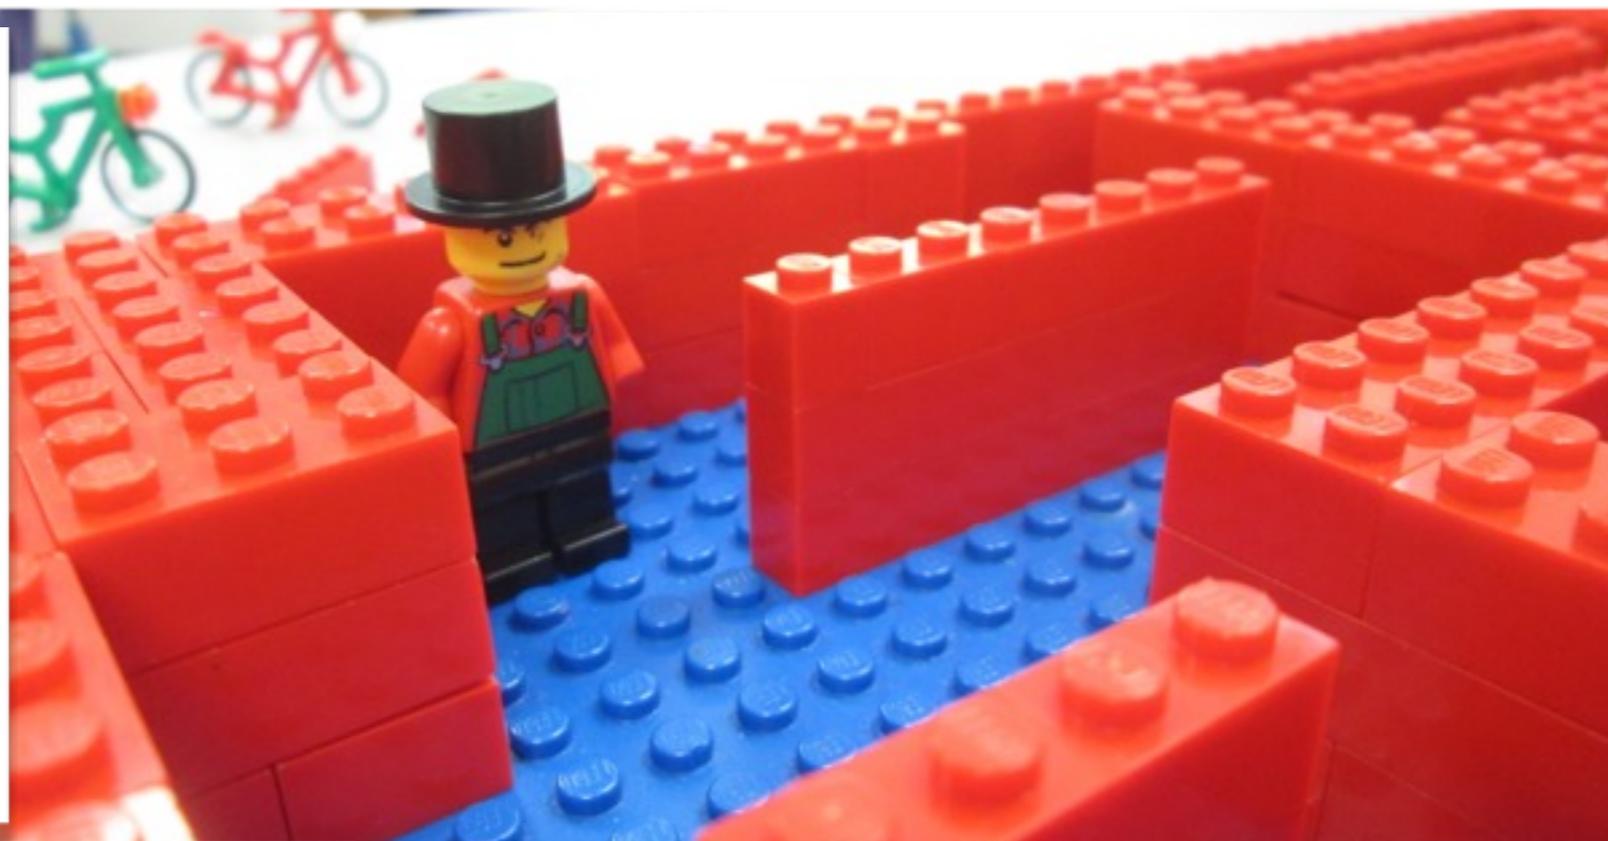

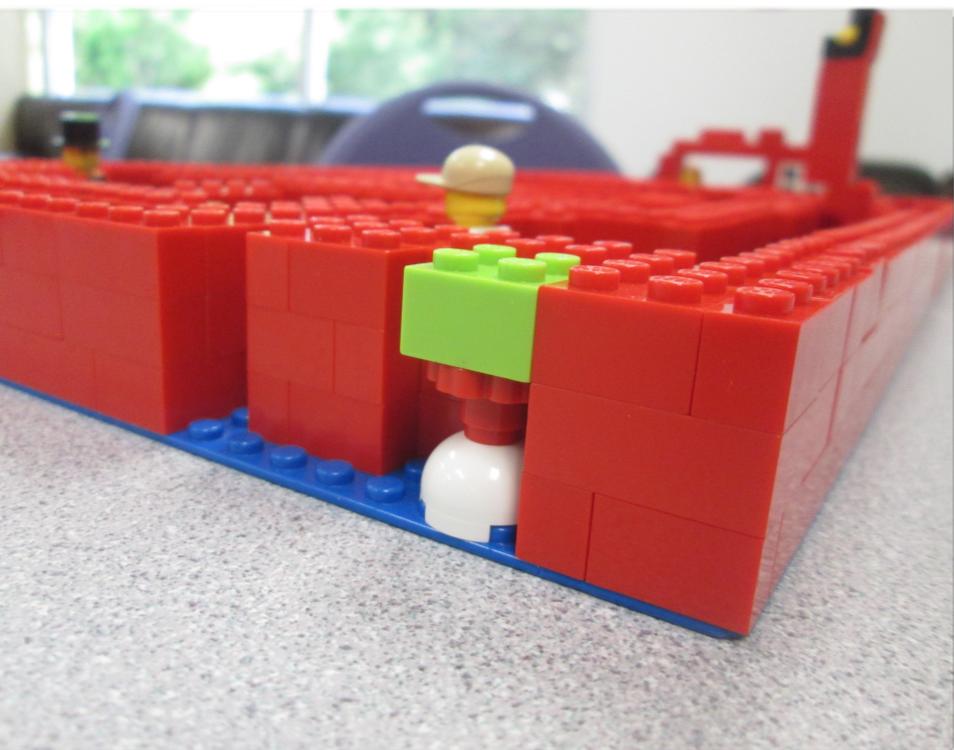

Some mazes have treasure, maybe in the middle, maybe in a small corner that is barely seen. In those mazes, the objective is changed from get out of the maze, to find the treasure in the maze. These mazes are not as hard to get out of it as normal mazes, but are still often hard to find the treasure. In Treasure Mazes, you must find the treasure before getting out. Sometimes, there's several treasures to obtain before getting out.

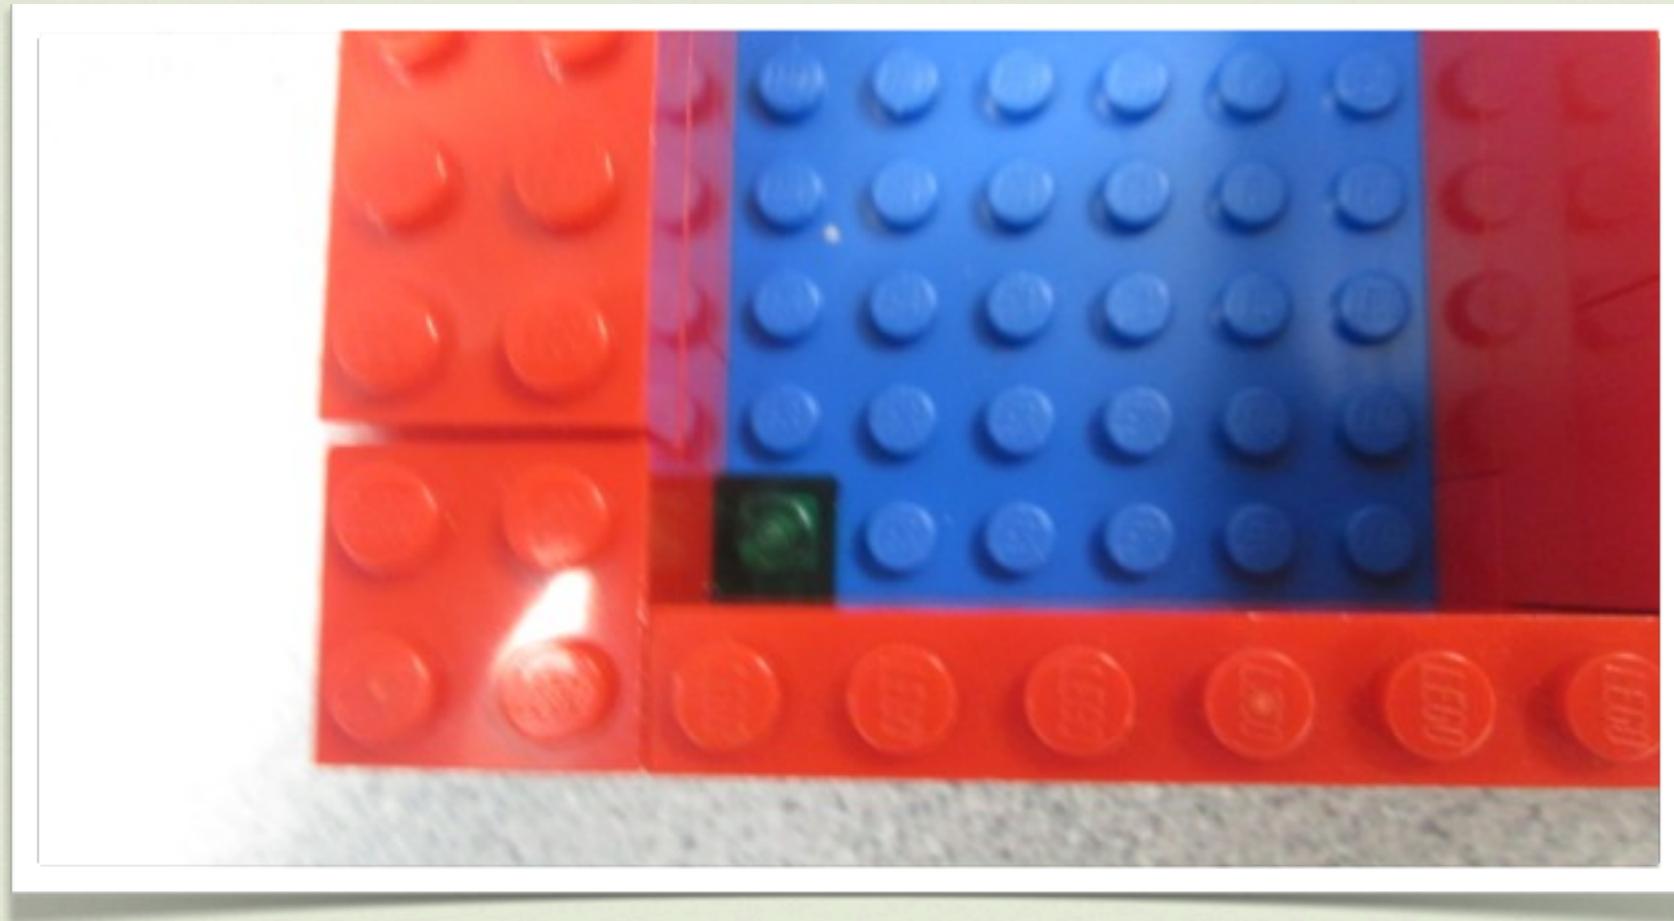

PICTURES- MAZE

• CHAPTER 11 •

• CHAPTER 12 •

Meet The Author!

Rohan Rali

Rohan Rali is almost 10 years old, and is going to 4th grade. His birthday is 9/19/04. (September 19th 2004) He was born in Indiana, U.S.A. He has a sister that is 4 years old. He likes video games, especially Minecraft. He likes Diary Of A Wimpy Kid book series. He also likes computers. His favorite computers are Macbooks, and iMacs. His favorite electronics brand is Apple. He doesn't really like windows computers, which are often slow. He also doesn't like eggs, except french toast and scrambled eggs. He doesn't like popsicles a lot, or candy. He likes types of chocolates, and a few types of ice cream. He wrote this book on June 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th.