The Adventures of Aqua Freeze

CHAPTER 1

Back Story

Of Aqua Freeze

It was only a few years ago when it happened. I was 7 maybe and it was a cool day in July. I was exploring down by the beach when I found a cave with clear, and white crystals on the ceiling.

The cave was amazing! Every day I would come back down to the cave and explore a little further into the dark blueness. I don't remember why but I would always run straight through the entrance not noticing what was there until one day I was running. so eager to get further into the cave I slid in some water and landed on my butt my thigh's completely emerged in the sand, and mud. I lay in the muck trying to think of an excuse to tell my mother on why my white clothes were brown. when something caught my eye. A glittering crystal that was just giving off the faintest blue glow that seemed to be lighting up the whole cave a vibrant color blue. I starred at it for a second not realizing what I say. I had always thought the cave it got it's color because of the sea.

I starred at the crystal basking in it's glory.
It seemed to be telling me something in a language I didn't even know I knew.
the crystal was controlling my mind telling me to take it.
Telling me I should be the one to have to have ultimate power.
I forgot what was around me.
I gave into the voice I got up stood on the tallest rock
I could see, I got on top of it, I reached up and pulled as hard as I could on the blue crystal.
My body became uncomfortably cool like water
rushing through my blood.
The voice was right, For a second I felt like all the power in the world was mine.
I could fly run or 50 miles in 2 seconds but then something unexpected happened.
The cave started to rumble then everything started to shake.
I let go of the crystal and the feeling died.
I could not fly I could not run 50 miles in 2 seconds. I could not even run 5 miles in 10 minutes.
I stood still trying to figure out what had just happened forgetting the cave was falling apart.

The rumbling got louder and the blue crystal fell scraping my arm.
I was so startled I lost my footing on the rock and fell.
I hit my head so hard I snapped out of my confusion.
but all the sudden that surge of power came back.
My brain switched to auto mode. I picked up the crystal and ran towards the cave entrance.
