THE BAD REVIEW

It was a beautiful day in Legoland the birds were chirping, the residents were waking up, and Quin Lerose's famous bakery was getting a health inspection. Quin was worried because the inspector was really picky, so he made sure there wasn't a speck of dust to be seen. When the inspector got there Quin was ready for almost anything. The inspector ordered one of everything on the menu which was expensive. By the time the inspector was almost done Quin couldn't resist peeking at the review but it wasn't what he suspected. The inspector had given him a bad review. Quin couldn't stand this, so he stormed into his office. Then he remembered he still had the last dish to serve which was his world famous bread.

THE WORLD'S NASTIEST BREAD

Quin decided to get the bread from the trash and put the nastiest stuff inside of it for a surprise. These nasty things were 1 week old cheese, a rotten apple, three sweaty gym socks, moldy pizza, two mice found in the corners of the kitchen, and last sewage water mixed with various rotten pastries. Quin called his creation the world's nastiest bread and that was what he was serving.

THE REACTION

When he got to the inspector's table the inspector said "it's about time what took you so long" and Quin said "I was putting on the finishing touches on your bread". Quin gave the inspector the bread and the inspector said "why does it smell so bad?" Quin didn't answer so he didn't talk anymore. The inspector took his first bite of the bread and from that moment Quin just smiled as the inspector ate the entire bread. He heard his stomach start to rumble and he said "oh I think I shouldn't have had those enchiladas before coming to your bakery". Then the inspector started hyperventilating like a maniac then hit the floor, he was out cold. From that day no one knew what really happened to the inspector, some say Quin threw his body in a dumpster, but the only person who know the truth is Quin.
